

January 2019 Free Events at The Village Booksmith

(all Friday events begin at 7:30 p.m.)

Friday, January 4: The Cooperative Society

Madison author E. G. Nadeau issues a call to action and defends the hypothesis that we are on the threshold of a new historical stage, characterized by cooperation, democracy, equitable resource distribution, and a sustainable relationship with nature.

Friday, January 11: Wilder Deitz in concert

Madison's heppiest cat returns to the bench for another night of solo piano. Originals, classics, jazz, fusion, improv, it's all on the table when the ten nimble fingers of Wilder Deitz tickle the ivories!

Friday, January 18: Toast of the Town!

After a too-long absence, our mostly musical Open Stage returns with our multi-faceted gem of a host, Ron Frye. Come sing, strum, pick, bow, or blow your way to stardom, or just relax with a warm beverage and enjoy the talent of others.

Friday, January 25: Wrannock Celtic Trio

The Legends of Leland bring a bit o' the Old Country to Baraboo as Mike, Lisa, and Angus employ their treasure trove of whistles, pipes, and stringed things for an evening of traditional tunes from Ireland, Scotland, and other frosty climes.

👉 Journals, calendars, and cards, oh, my! 👈

COMING IN FEBRUARY: 1: Camino de Santiago!
8: Bent Paddle Poetry!
15: Toast of the Town!

The Village Booksmith

Downtown Baraboo 📖 On the Square
608-355-1001 www.villagebooksmith.com

"What good is the warmth of summer, without the cold of winter to give it sweetness."

— John Steinbeck,
Travels With Charley